GREENVILLE, SC – December 7, 2011 – Didi Caldwell, a principal in Global Location Strategies’ rapidly-growing site selection and economic development consultancy, has been named to membership in the Site Selectors Guild, the organization has announced.

The Site Selectors Guild is a professional association comprised of many of the world’s most respected site selection consultants. Its mission is to advance the profession of international corporate site selection by promoting the site selection profession and providing education, networking and other services to those involved in the site selection industry. Admission to membership is by invitation only.

Members of the Site Selectors Guild must demonstrate experience in handling the most complex locational issues successfully on behalf of clients. The Guild is the only network of site selectors dedicated to increasing awareness of the site selection profession among corporations, providing education to economic development practitioners, and facilitating networking opportunities throughout the industry.
