

Site Location Consultant Greenville, SC

Do you have experience in economic development for a private company, chamber of commerce or state/local government but want to develop your career in the broader consulting field and have international impact?

Global Location Strategies (GLS), a woman-owned Greenville, SC based site location consulting firm is looking for a Site Location Consultant to join their team. GLS has assisted clients from over 50 countries choose optimal locations for their facilities and negotiate valuable incentive packages.

The ideal candidate is adept at complex and thorough analysis and developing market insight for clients in industrial site selection and incentive negotiations.

Primary Duties:

- Develop site geographic and infrastructure assessments for industrial and manufacturing site selection projects
- Research and analyze market and labor data for site selection consulting projects.
- Solicit information from third-party organizations including state, local, utility and other economic development organizations
- Develop financial models and research tax and incentive analysis
- Be a part of project teams with direct interface with client executives, high-level economic development organizations, and others

The Rewards: Be a key member of a supportive team committed to growth and a high level of client satisfaction!

- Attractive base salary + bonus
- Company benefits (Health insurance, PTO, 401K, etc)

Only Apply If you will thrive in a high growth (2x+ in 3 years) privately owned company and possess these overriding core values:

- 1) Empowered to grow, contribute, and act on opportunity.
- 2) Meticulous, impartial and thorough.
- 3) Conduct business with exceptional integrity.

AND:

- You exhibit an entrepreneurial spirit, drive, and ambition
- Provide references of 2 - 4 total years' experience in economic development, site selection, engineering, consulting, manufacturing, or related discipline.
- Superior skills in excel, PowerPoint and experience with GIS mapping a plus
- 4-year college degree required in in business, economics, finance, engineering, or related discipline

Join Global Location Strategies - A world leader in site selection and incentive negotiation services. Here at GLS, our team takes great pride and satisfaction in assisting companies and communities make successful decisions that have generational impact while working as a fun, but professional, team.

Interested in joining our team? Please send your resume to Kelly Craig at kellycraig@globallocationstrategies.com.